

ZIXMAIL

Stewart has chosen ZixMail® from Zix Corporation (ZixCorp®) to deliver an innovative and secure email solution that enables you to protect your business and customers by ensuring the security of their non-public personal information. ZixMail helps agencies maintain a privacy and email security program and comply with federal law and the American Land Title Association® best practices.

A simple-to-use desktop service that encrypts emails and attachments with a single click, ZixMail offers end-to-end delivery assurance and lets you use your existing email address to send messages that your customers can easily download.
